SCOTT PARTIN.—A gentleman of this city yesterday returned from a visit into the counties of Johnston and Nash, and reports the fact that on Monday and Tuesday of this week a man travelling (walking) with a woman under very suspicious circumstances, was seen in the vicinity of Earpsboro, in Johnston county, and subsequently in Nash, a quiet section of these counties, who gave his name as Tooten, and who told some dozen different stories as to what he had been doing and where he was going. Subsequently a photograph of Partin was obtained and its resemblance to the man who had been in that section induces the belief that he was Partin, as he was known to have been living with a woman who may be now endeavoring to escape with him. Several parties went in pursuit of him, he having gone in the direction of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, but he has not been overtaken.

It would seem probable that the murderer had escaped from this section of the State, but as he is a man of plain mind, it is not improbable that he may still be lurking in some quiet and out-of-the-way places, not knowing the efforts that are being made for his capture. In the interest of humanity, it is to be hoped that his liberty may not be long left him.

THE THISTLE EDITION OF THE WAVERLY NOVELS.—Since the days when the brilliant star of Scott rose in the literary firmament, the field of fiction has been filled with those who either aimed to emulate his fame or gratify the taste which his genius had created. Every realm of fancy has been invaded, every resource of imagination has been ransacked, and the literary world has been so flooded with novels that the name itself has become wearisome. Not that the human heart is less responsive to fictitious tales of sorrow, not that it is less readily warmed by pictures of courage and stirring adventure, not that it is less easily moved to mirth by stories sparkling with wit and humor. But the ear has become dulled, and the taste has been palled by endless variations played too long upon the same string. As the physical appetite is satiated with unsubstantial delicacies or too highly seasoned viands, so is the mental taste overtaxed by the over-wrought creations of modern fiction.

But as the imagination must have its food, if it is true to nature, it seeks that which adapts itself to its cravings, and that it finds in the WAVERLY NOVELS. They will never perish; they will never be dull; they will never cease to amuse, interest and instruct. For Scott's pictures are all true to nature. His men and women find their prototypes in every day life, his narratives have their parallels in ordinary human action, his dialogues are the discourses of people of a mundane sphere, and his description of incident or scenery, while animated and brilliant, are not distorted by extravagant strains after effect.

The Waverly Novels will always be sought after by those who return to a plain healthful diet after a surfeit upon stimulants, and the publishers of the THISTLE EDITION very wisely make their calculations upon the permanency of this want. E. J. Hale & Son, of New York, our old North Carolina editors, whose publishing house have given so much of what was valuable to the reading world in their own beautiful way, are issuing all of Scott's novels in a style which while attracting all by the elegance of their style, will enable every one to buy by reason of the cheapness of the edition.

The biggest and best of watermelons at S. D. Harrisons. Melons delivered to all parts of the city. Plenty more of the same sort left.

"THE BOTTOM FELL OUT."—The price of goods at Creech's has been marked down extremely low for the next thirty days for cash. See the advertisement in another column, and go and examine for yourselves.

THE PRICE OF BEER.—The reduction in the price of beer, in this city from ten to five cents per glass has had the effect of causing quite a rush upon our beer saloons during the last few days, and as a consequence a much greater amount of the beverage has been drank than formerly. This result will be a happy one, as it will in proportion cause less ardent spirits to be drank, being much better for the human system.

THE BOAT "OAK CITY."—The Editor of the Wilmington Journal, who was in Beaufort at the recent boat race in the harbor at that place, has this to say of the "Oak City," owned by two Raleigh gentlemen:

"Capt. Bell with his famous yacht "Sunnyside," bore off the palm. His seamanship was superb, and his boat is one of the finest models we have ever seen. The new boat "Oak City" came in second. We regard her as the prettiest craft in the water, and when she gets used to her rigging, and is handled a little more skillfully, the "Sunnyside" will have to look well to her honors. The "Sunny South," another beautiful boat, was the third in the race. She is capable of doing better than upon this occasion.

TO PURIFY A SINK.—In hot weather it is almost impossible to prevent the sinks becoming foul, unless some chemical preparation is used. One pound of copperas dissolved in four gallons of water, poured over a sink three or four times, will completely destroy the offensive odor. As a disinfecting agent to scatter around premises affected with any unpleasant odor, nothing is better than a mixture of four parts dry ground plaster of Paris to one part of fine charcoal, by weight. All sorts of glass vessels and other utensils may be effectually purified from offensive smells by rinsing them with charcoal powder, after the grosser impurities have been scoured off with sand and soap.

JUDGE WATTS AND THE HALIFAX NOMINATION.—Judge Watts didn't want the nomination from Halifax, oh, no! He said prior to the nominating convention for that county, in which he was sadly and ingloriously defeated, that there was a want of harmony in that county between the carpet-bag, (Larkin and Franklin,) the scallowag (Goodwyn & Co.,) and the negro element, and they wanted what they didn't have) "a man of distinction and a bility" to come in and pour oil upon the troubled waters, and hence he supposed "he would have to accept the nomination" from Halifax. His condescension, however, didn't work worth a cuss, as the scallowag element (Goodwyn) left him far behind. Your "distinctions and ability," Mr. Judge Samivel will have to seek another field in which to be aired. We are a little sorry at this result, as His Honor's (heaven save the mark) monkey actions in the Convention would have served to enliven the sometimes dull hours of all legislative bodies.

HOW TO COOK VEGETABLES.—In this country fat meat, says our contemporary, the Petersburg Index, oftentimes strong and rancid, is considered the base of almost every description of cookery. Eggs, chickens, and beefsteak are made horribly indigestible by it, plugs of the gross stuff dropped into hash, greens, cabbage, beans, peas, turnips and even asparagus, are steeped in bacon grease, tasting more of a hog than the delicious vegetables they represent; and lastly, the simon pure article itself is converted into salt sole leather by the frying process, and then consumed.

It may not be too much to say that this wholesale use of fat bacon is one of the prolific causes of that almost universal American complaint—dyspepsia. It requires the stomach of an ostrich to digest all this grease.—And the saddest part of the matter is, that the people don't know any better. Turnips, cabbage, squashes, peas, beets, and, indeed, almost every other vegetable, are far more wholesome and delicate when cooked by themselves, and afterwards seasoned with pepper, butter, and other condiments, to the taste.

The preparation of Irish potatoes for the table likewise, though exceedingly simple, is properly understood by but few cooks. They usually appear hard and sodden, and unfit to be eaten. To have them flaky and mealy, wash clean without breaking the skin, and about thirty minutes before the dinner hour drop the tubers into water boiling rapidly as possible, and keep up the heat until tried with a folk they seem perfectly done. Then draw off every drop of the water and cover over closely for a few minutes before serving, and they will be mealy as almost to require handling with a spoon. Eaten piping hot in this condition, no article of food is more wholesome or delicious.

It is unfortunate that the proper preparation of their food is so much neglected by the masses. B press and medical faculty should spare no effort to promote reform in a matter so vitally essential to health and comfort.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED?—The citizens of Raleigh will remember that it is absolutely necessary for them to register in order to vote on the 5th of August. Every man who desires an honest government will see that his name is on the registration books before the day of election.

DAVIDSON NOMINATIONS.—A correspondent thus writes us concerning the campaign:

"Old Davidson has B. B. Roberts and F. C. Robbins nominated for the Convention—two of the best men in the county. We will beat the Rads about 600 or more beyond a doubt. Poor Cramer and Michael have a hard road to travel. Our candidates use them up badly.

DEMOCRAT."

"STEPPING DOWN AND OUT."—The Fayetteville Gazette has this to say of our Johnnie McDonald, late postal agent between this place and Fayetteville, and who is now speaking in Cumberland:

"One Jno A. McDonald, a Government post-office agent, who seems to have time to quit his business in order to go about as the champion of Buxton, addressed the people of 71st last Tuesday. He called the Conservatives there assembled educated rascals, and sustained A. G. Thornton in marrying a negro woman. As the honest people of 71st were not in the habit of hearing such foul sentiments, they made McDonald get down off the stand—and they were very right. It is thought the distinguished gentleman, the "right bower" of Buxton and the apologist of miscegnation, will not address the 71st township any more for the present."

VILLIANOUS.—The Democratic Executive Committee of Wayne county met in Goldsboro yesterday to consider a so-called affidavit published in the Wilmington Post, alleged to have been made by one Jas. T. Burnett, a mulatto boy, in which he is made to say that he was offered $10 by a person unknown to him, who claimed to be a Democrat, if he (Burnett) would go to the entertainment given in Goldsboro by the children of the Oxford Orphan Home on the 12th inst., and occupy a prominent seat in the front part of the hall, and he was thus induced to act as he did. After due investigation the Committee has no hesitancy to pronounce the affidavit a high-handed piece of villainy, manufactured to order by leading Radicals, hoping thereby to check the odium that Civil Rights affair has cast upon their party. There is no truth in the affidavit. Burnet has lived in Goldsboro all his life; he is an irresponsible mulatto boy, induced to do what he did by low down white Radicals. Even the better class of Republicans discredit his affidavit, and so does the colored Magistrate before whom he made it. It shows to what infamy Radicals will resort for mere party purposes. The good citizens of Goldsboro are very naturally quite indignant.

ESCAPE OF PENITENTIARY CONVICTS AT WILMINGTON — ONE KILLED AND ANOTHER RECAPTURED.—The Wilmington Star of yesterday says:

On Monday last four of the convicts recently arrived at the County Work House from the State Penitentiary at Raleigh effected their escape. They were at work in the back-yard and were strongly guarded, but being desperate men they seized an opportunity and made a dash for freedom, although they must have been confident that one or more at least must pay the penalty with their lives or be wounded as they ran. They were fired upon by the guard and one was known to be wounded, but they all succeeded in getting off. Yesterday, however, the wounded man, whose name was Thomas Crawford, was found dead near a branch about one mile from the Work House. He was wounded in the hand and also in the right side, the latter having doubtless caused his death.

Another of the men who effected an escape was recaptured by Mr. Benj. Mathes on Wednesday night. Mr. Mathes had secreted himself at Northeast bridge, and after awhile he noticed a man advancing cautiously over the bridge. Mr. M. let him approach until he was within reach of his hand, when he rose suddenly, presented the pistol in the individual's face and warned him to halt. He did so, and proved to be one of the escaped prisoners. He was then taken to the Work House and properly secured.

Two of the escaped convicts are still at large, but as unremitting efforts are being made for their capture they will doubtless soon find themselves in their old quarters. All the parties a re colored.

JESSIE POMEROY ATTEMPTS TO BREAK JAIL, Boston, July 21.—An attempt of young Pomeroy, the boy murderer, to escape from the Charlesstreet Jail was discovered yesterday. He had been engaged for some time in digging out the bricks round the window of his cell by means of a piece of an iron wash dish and his plan was after getting outside of the cell to lower himself from the iron gallery to the floor of the rotunda by cords taken from the window frame. He was to leave the cell at midnight as the watch was being changed, and presuming that he could overcome all who opposed him, clear the jail building and scale the exterior wall. Letters to his family, ingeniously describing his plan of operations, were found in his cell.

Good, effective remedies prove themselves. If a certain preparation is offered as a sure remedy for rheumatism and a dozen or hundred trials are made without avail, of course our faith recoils from the so-called remedy. If a person, suffering from rheumatism, is advised to try the celebrated Home Stomach Bitters for a cure he may be skeptical at first, but as sure as he gives them a fair trial his skepticism vanishes. This preparation proves its own claims.

The Mystic Masonic Tie.

In the wilderness of Edom the hand of the children of Ishmael is still raised as of old against every stranger, but if some Mason of this city were to meet these marauding sons of the desert, at the sign of the Fellow-craft, every matchlock would be instantly lowered, and he would be welcomed to their tents and received as a brother.

A friend of ours—an officer of our Navy long since deceased—was once wandering about in the narrow lines of an Eastern city, having lost his way in their inextricable labyrinths. Suddenly he was startled by the frightful words, "Christian dog! Christian dog!!" He turned, and beheld approaching him a crowd of enraged Mahometans, each with a large stone in his uplifted hand. The Lieutenant saw no escape from the most terrible of deaths; for with the exception of the mob now almost upon him, he could see no human being, save an old man sitting in his door, and apparently looking out for the fun to begin of stoning a Christian to death. Luckily, the thought crossed the officer's mind that the old man might be a Mason—he made a sign, and instantly the Arab rushed out, placed himself by the side of the "Christian dog," drove off his world-be-murderers, and conducted him safely to his ship.

We can cite another instance of the fidelity of an Eastern Mason to his duty. About nine years ago an American vessel was wrecked off the shores of one of the Asiatic islands. None were saved from the waves, but the captain, who, being a very expert swimmer, reached the land. The barbarous natives carried him to their Sultan. When ushered into the presence of the despot, the captain made himself known as a Mason. The Sultan immediately met him on the square, received him as a brother, treated him with great distinction, and promised to send him to Calcutta by the first opportunity. The climate was however, so pestilential that our captain soon fell sick with the jungle fever. The Sultan nursed him through all his illness, entertained him like a prince till he recovered, furnished him with abundance of money, and sent him to Calcutta, whence he returned to America.

We will give yet another example, for which we are indebted to an officer of the British Navy. He had been stationed in Australia, and while there he was informed of the following facts, which he communicated to us. A party of white men attempted to cross that great continent, but they all perished by thirst and starvation but one man. This man's strength at last gave out, and he laid himself down in the parched desert to die. He had not been lying there long before a tribe of Australian savages came up, and would in a few seconds have killed him, had he not made that sign which is never made in vain. The chief was a Mason; he threw himself alongside of the Englishman and restrained his followers from murdering him.. He gave him food and drink, kept him till restored to strength, and then escorted him to the nearest white settlement.

A Narrow Escape—Heroic Conduct.

Day before yesterday a number of ladies and gentlemen, residents of Williamsburg, drove down to King's Mill wharf on the James river to receive a bridal party. The ambulance belonging to the insane asylum arrived about the same time, containing several of the most hopeful convalescents who were being driven out for recreation. One of these, a young lady, suddenly sprang to the ground and running to the edge of the wharf jumped overboard. Fortunately her dress buoyed her up, but so determined was she on suicide that she thrust her head under the water and held it there. In the meantime several gentlemen procured pieces of plank which they threw overboard and the Rev. Mr. Williamson, one of the party, plunged into the water and swam toward the spot where the unfortunate young lady was struggling to consummate her rash intent. He peremptorily ordered her to grasp a plank he had taken along with him, and so accustomed was she to hospital discipline that his order was immediately obeyed. He gradually drew the plank toward shore and finally had the pleasure of restoring her to the keeper in safety, though very much exhausted. His noble and heroic conduct is worthy of the highest praise, and the self-satisfaction of having rescued an unfortunate human being from a watery grave must be very pleasant to him.—Norfolk Landmark.

RECOVERING THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.—There is something encouraging to honest people in the fact that in South Carolina the State has recovered seventy-five thousand dollars in the courts from a public official who robbed the treasury of that amount. It has taken only a year to reach that result, but in other States, such as New York, suits of much older date against public offenders have not yet resulted in the recovery of the spoils. The case in South Carolina holds out the hope that it is possible to lay the strong hand of the law upon official thieves in this country and to make them disgorge.

The worst case of selfishness that ever has been presented to the public emanated from a youth who complained because his mother put a bigger mustard plaster on his younger brother than she did on him.

The Autumn bonnets will have strings and just enough cape to 'swear by.'

AN ANCIENT RELIC.—Yesterday a gentleman by the name of Moran visited the old "King house," on the of Main street and King's lane, now undergoing repairs, and while examining the plastering found a pocketknife imbedded therein. It bore the initials of the manufacturer and was dated 1760—consequently it is now one hundred and fifteen years old. The blade though, rusty was otherwise uninjured, and the handle, formed of iron and horn, was also well preserved.—Norfolk Landmark.

George Wilkes, editor of Wilkes Spirit of the Times, was assaulted Wednesday at Saratoga, in the United States Hotel, by Price McGrath, the well-known turfman, on account of an article in the Sprit severely stigmatizing McGrath and John Chamberlain for their management of the races at Long Branch. McGrath struck Wilkes with a cane, and a struggle ensued. There was some lively fencing, in the course of which Wilkes' cane was broken. Neither was hurt. Wilkes called for the police, and on his complaint McGrath was arrested for assault and battery.

DON'T MAKE WAR ON THE STOMACH.—If you are bilious, dyspeptic and constipated, don't make war on the stomach by successively swallowing blue pills, strong purgatives and powerful astringents. Such a procedure damages digestion and weakens the bowels, leaving stomach, liver and intestines, after the immediate effect, in a condition of greater disorder than before. That complete relief which remedies of the above description signally fail to afford is obtained by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. And for the best of reasons. Biliousness is the result of inactivity of the liver, dyspepsia of weakness of the digestive organs, and constipation is produced by the above causes operating together The Bitters, being a powerful stomachic, overcome indigestion by stimulating the secretion of gastric juice, relieve biliousness by promoting greater activity of the liver, and thus enable the bowels to act with renewed regularity.

THE question is not whether we shall have a Convention or not; it is, who shall represent us? Remember his.

LET every Democrat come to the polls on election day. Let them see that the Republican party do not get back into power again.

KEEP working. Only two weeks more to the election, and much work to be done. Let every Democrat take hold. The day is ours, if we work with a will.

LET the people of the East take hope and courage, for the West is coming to its rescue, and let the West keep at work and fulfil the expectations founded upon its actions.

LET the County Executive Committees be stirring, and see that every man registers, and that every man votes. Every thing depends upon the activity of these Committees. Go to work and keep at work.

REMEMBER that the election law requires "That when a voter is challenged at the polls upon demand of any citizen of the State it shall be the duty of the Inspectors of the Election to require said voter before being allowed to vote to prove by the oath of some other person known to the judges the fact of his residence for thirty days previous thereto in the county in which he proposes to vote."

Remember also that the election law says: "No elector shall be entitled to register or vote in any other precinct or township than the one in which he is an actual or bona fide resident on the day of election, and no certificates of registration shall be given."

M. Q. WADDELL, ESQ., has gone West specially for the purpose of showing Judge Watts around. Together with a large fund of political knowledge and intense interest in the results of the campaign, Mr. Waddell has an inimmitable humor, and a store of anecdote and illustration which will find a most happy subject for its application in the fantastic Judge of the 6th Judicial District.

THE editor of the Winston Republican styles J. Cameron Buxton, temporarily in charge of the Winston Sentinel, the carpet-bag editor. This is as expressive a term of contempt or reproach as the editor could find. Coming from a Radical it is rich, but it goes far to justify the feelings of the Democrats to that class of gentry. But Mr. Buxton happens to be native born and of full North Carolina lineage. His blows must have been heavy to have drawn out such a cry of suffering.

"COMMERCE, trade, manufactures, industry, enterprise, are all paralyzed." That every one sees, every one feels. Where does all this come from? What party governs the Country? What party has managed its finances? What party has devised its system of Revenue?

There is but one answer, for there has been but one party in power since the war.

But with all the effects of radical government patent to your eyes, you are invited to give it further confidence, you are invited to keep it longer in power, you are invited to increase and perpetuate your own ruin.

And you will do it, unless you come out in full force for the Democratic candidates for Convention.

THE Convention is called to benefit North Carolinians. It is their duty to send their best men to represent them.

DO THE people want mixed schools to which the children of the whites will be compelled to go? The Constitution of 1868 has the provision requiring attendance of all children between the ages of six and eighteen at schools for a period of sixteen months. The Constitution of 1875, if framed by the radicals, will compel this attendance.

The negro constitutes eight-elevenths of the republican vote in North Carolina. The negro feels his importance to his party. The negro is going to assert his consequence, the negro is going to demand something real and substantial.

White men of the East and of the West, look out lest you lose your birth-right.

THE Radicals are working desperately, and either the leaders of the party are very liberal in their contributions or the contingent fund of the government is at their disposal; at any rate, they have plenty of money and use it freely. The Executive Committee is in permanent session in this City.

If this party works so hard for the ruin of the State, will not the Democrats work as hard for its salvation? If the Republicans contribute so lavishly to retrieve their losses, will not the Democrats, not only increase their efforts, but open their purses to retain their power? We want to buy no votes. We want to corrupt no man. But the necessary expenses of a campaign must not fall upon a few public spirited and zealous men.

WHY the people of North Carolina should be indifferent to the present contest passes comprehension. It is true they are shaking off their sloth. But they must get more wide awake. They must go to work, and make impossible the dangers which would follow upon Radical success.

It is not in North Carolina alone that the evil effects would be felt. To be sure, we ought to know enough of Radical rule in the past to be wise enough to avoid its return. We have had a governor who ruled the State with despotic power, and suspended laws at his will, or enforced his decrees with a hireling military force. We have had a Judiciary obedient to the will of a tyrant, afraid, for the first time in American history, to use independently the power with which they were invested, and depriving the people of the shield of law, the only protection interposed between them and tyranny. And we have had, even since the resumption of the forms of law, a judiciary so servile or so corrupt, or so incompetent, as to make the Bench a reproach where it once had been a name to revere. We have had a Legislature which ran wild in all the license of unbridled extravagance, and which heaped the State a load of debt under which it yet staggers, and imposed taxes upon the people they are still stripped to pay.

All this is notoriously, and in the memory of every man living, the work of the radical party. Shall we, with this experience, invite it back to power, with enlarged license, with injuries to avenge, with mortifications to soothe, with rapacity to gratify, with the negro to conciliate and retain, with party to establish and power to cement? Shall we entrust that party with this tremendous engine, this control of the organic law, with the full knowledge that it will use it for its own purposes, and to the detriment of the best interests of the State?

But going beyond North Carolina, do we not see the effect Democratic defeat will have on other States? Radicalism comes out of the ordeal renewed, rejuvenated, and encouraged; endorsed again by the people to whom it has been a scourge of scorpions, and launched upon the world to run a new career of licentious misgovernment. Strengthened in North Carolina, it goes forth to other States with confident appeal to popular favor and fastens its hold forever upon the government, to perish only with the ruin of every interest and the utter overthrow of free government.

Let the Democrats weigh well their course, before they suffer themselves to be lulled into indifference or seduced into the support of their worst enemies.

A Baltimore inventor, it is said, proposes to voyage by balloon from Baltimore to New York, and from New York to Liverpool, taking with him an engine of twelve-horse power, a gas generator and materials, postal matter and fourteen passengers, with extra balloons, to serve in case of wreck by collapse.

Madrid advices say the number of Carlists captured since the first of July is 4,000. The Carlists deny the truth of the reports that their troops have entered France, and that General Dorregaray, wounded, has taken refuge at Cauterets.

WHAT DEFEAT OF THE DEMOCRATS WILL BRING ABOUT.

The canvass, now in progress, is full of weighty consequences. It is the last struggle between the parties for the control of the State. It is the last trial of strength between the Republican and the Democrat. It is the last effort of the negro to assert his claim to absolute social and political equality with the white man. It is a contest that could not be postponed. Like the war between the States, these were elements that could no longer be stayed. They had to discharge themselves—then, in the thunder tones of battle—now, by the more peaceable conductor of the ballot box.

Nevertheless, now as then, they had to be liberated before the equilibrium of the political elements was restored.

Most unfortunately, but perhaps most necessarily, the Civil Rights question has loomed up as a formidable issue in this campaign. Necessarily, we say, because the negro in the East has become not only conscious of his power, but impatient to exercise it. The teachings of Fred. Douglass and Langston have brought forth fruits. The negro will no longer be the political hewer of wood and drawer of water. Is not the negro right, if the principles of his party are sound? Is he not theoretically pronounced the equal of his white Republican brother, equally entitled to promotion? Does he not know that he holds the destinies of the Republican party in the South and of the nation in his hands, and is he going to play second fiddle to his party always?

The negro looks abroad at other States, and he sees that his race does derive some practical benefit from party service. He looks into South Carolina, and he sees a negro Lieutenant Governor, and Supreme Court Judge, and Speaker of the State Senate, and a control of the offices in many of the counties. He goes to Mississippi, and he sees a negro U. S. Senator, and a Lieutenant Governor, and Superintendent of Common Schools, and negro legislators, sheriffs and magistrates without number. He looks at Louisiana, and he sees Senators, a Lieutenant Governor, a Superintendent of Common Schools and the control of most of the offices in the State. He finds the same state of things in Florida.

Do you think that the negro in North Carolina is going to be kept out of his rights, if by any possibility he finds himself in position to exercise them? The negro vote in North Carolina is between 75,000 and 85,000. The white Radical vote from 15,000 to 25,000.

Will the radicals, if they get control of the Convention dare now to ignore this element in their own party? In 1868, the negro was then newly emancipated, ignorant, inexperienced, venial, easily led and easily controlled, a plastic mass in the hands of wily leaders. Now, they have had experience of freedom, they have increased in intelligence, they have tasted of office, and they know and feel their power and consequence. Will they be put off now, as they were in 1868? Be assured, they will not.

The Convention will be held, and if the radicals control it, the work of the Constitution will be shaped to secure all the demands of the negro. The Civil Rights bill will be engrafted upon it, and then it will be operative on the people of North Carolina.

White men of North Carolina are you ready for mixed schools, for negro Judges, for negro representatives, for negro senators? Are you ready to forget, that while you guarantee to the negro all his political and legal rights, this is a white man's government, framed by the wisdom of the white man, and secured by the blood of the white race?

If you are ready for such a tremendous change, stay away from the polls on the day of election. If you are not ready, come up, every man of you, and vote for the men of your race.

A FORTUNE GOING TO IRELAND.—Neil Doherty, a grocer and a bachelor, died in Brooklyn, N. Y., last September. He had no relatives, and left the greater part of his fortune, nearly $100,000, for the establishment of a school in his native place, parish of Rye, county Donegal, Ireland. He also left considerable to Brooklyn charities. In what purported to be a codicil to the will he was represented as leaving $12,000 to one Bernard McLoughlin, who had attended him shortly before his death. Hugh Doherty, an executor, appealed from the decree which refused to probate the codicil. The case went to the Supreme Court, and Judge Barnard has rendered a decision approving the decree, but declaring the codicil not proved. This decision, if not reversed by the Court of Appeals, will result in sending the greater part of the testator's property to Ireland.

A new Texas paper called the Thunderbolt says it comes "to promote the welfare, safety and prosperity of the community in which it is published."

Sad Accident—a Young Lady Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon a very sad accident occurred on Bear Creek, by which one young lady lost her life and several others narrowly escaped a watery grave. The facts were as follows: A party of about forty young people, members of the St. Mark's German Lutheran Sunday school, went to Smith's pavilion on Bear Creek on a picnic. In the afternoon a party of four young ladies and two young gentlemen took a small rowboat and pulled over to Shaw's Pavilion for the purpose of securing the services of Mr. George M. Carmer, a musician well known to several of them. They were unsuccessful in this, and then rowed down the creek toward Stern's Retreat, a distance of about a mile. On the way several of the party began to rock the boat violently, and when opposite to Stern's Retreat, while attempting to turn, the rocking caused the boat to upset and the party were simultaneously thrown into the water.

It was about 5:30 o'clock. Their cries were heard on shore, and brought the assistance of Mr. Isadore Rosenfeld, who was out in a boat with several other persons. He succeeded in saving three of the ladies and the two gentlemen, the fourth person, Miss Kate Smith, being drowned. Another boat came to the scene, and one of its occupants succeeded in catching Miss Smith's hat as she was going down, but it pulled off and remained in his hand, while the unfortunate lady again descended to the watery depths, and there found her premature grave.—Three men, named Constant Siebert, Captain Jones and Mr. Woods, went out immediately from Stern's Retreat and dragged for the body, and after an hour's patient work succeed in securing it. Life was extinct, though every effort was made to resuscitate it. The body was taken to Smith's Pavilion, and thence to the city.—Miss Smith was about eighteen years of age, and daughter of Mr. Henry Smith, builder, residing at No. 40 South Broadway. She is described as a fine-looking, remarkably intelligent and interesting young lady, and her untimely death will cause deep regret among a large circle of relatives and friends. All the persons capsized from the boat were nearly drowned when saved, and last night they were lying in a critical condition. This horrible accident was doubtless the direct result of carelessness, and will, it is hoped, prove an effective warning to young persons who indulge in such criminal ruthlessness.

MARBLE-TOP TABLES.—According to the Herald of Health, marble-top tables are to be avoided. It says:

"They are cold, and rapidly absorb the heat and vitality of the body, robbing it of its life. We have heard of one invalid whom the doctor could not cure, until one day he noticed she used a marble stand, and suspected it had something to do with her ill-health. So he forbade her to use it. Soon she was well. We know healthy people who feel the twinges of pain in the shoulders by sitting near one. They are handsome, but unhealthy for all that.

The silver ore at Old Orchard Beach, Maine, has been explored to the depth of twenty-five feet. The assayer's report is $1,500 to the ton.

A Fredricksburg, Va., firm has received an order from Charleston S. C., for 600 plows and 25,000 pounds of castings.

CHARLES H. SCOTT, }
The second annual session of this school will begin WEDNESDAY, September, 1st, 1875. The Principals have procured for the school the commodious and attractive residence on Newton avenue, well known in Raleigh as the "Cotton Place" more recently owned and handsomely refitted by Col R Kingsland.
Besides continuing their Day School they propose taking a limited number of boys of good character and conduct to board in their own family.
The training of the school, as heretofore, will be full, thorough and accurate, preparing its pupils for college or for business life.
Competent assistants will be provided in all departments, as may be required. The Principals trust that it is scarcely necessary for them to say that whilst the school will continue to be conducted on Christian principles, it will be entirely without denominational aim or bias.

ADDRESS OF THE EXECUTIVE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM.,
RALEIGH, June 1st, '75.

To the People of North Carolina:

The General Assembly at its recent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient.

NECESSITY FOR CHANGE.

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Constitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our people checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some harsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed without apprehension to perfect our Constitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW.

This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Scidlists and adventurers who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifications entitling them to it; others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black and white—alien in feeling and Radical in Education—who sought positions here that were denied them where known—to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support believing it would be merely temporary, and to escape further action and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuited to our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, simple and perspicuous, so that no room for doubt may be left to inference or construction; our rights, so precise y defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each department of the government should be so restricted, that while it is free to discharge its appropriate duties it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of others.

THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR CONDITION.

That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its admirable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit instrument to be submitted to the people. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, it requires no difficult research into the principles of practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, a thing unknown to the judicial history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its existence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been demanded than in the entire previous history of the State—and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the second and eighth Judicial Districts, contending for the same position, one of which claiming to hold by an appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and who's term is expressed to be only eight years.

In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons accused of criminal offences are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent economy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to restore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY.

It is also hoped that a greater incentive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from depriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective franchise.

The condition of the Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able bodied men, also demands careful and practical attention, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be excluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the present constitution to enumerate the remedies to be offered.

There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsiderate legislation that no new matters be brought forward within —— days of the adjourning.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES.

As to the specific changes that ought to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to select as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesmanship, spotless integrity, representatives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will entitle them their labors to confidence and support—and in their hands they certainly can more safely confide their rights than in the Convention of 1868.

METHODS OF CHANGE.

Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encountered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprehensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encumbered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may impede their labors.

The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated.

The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Personal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are calmly enjoyed by the friends of Constitutional Reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and anticipate scrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a free party, but had their origin in the necessities of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES.

It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen optics of some persons defy all law. The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate before he shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto, "shall swear to observe these restrictions" (see acts 1874-5.) Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "restricted Convention" of 1865, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that in a time of high party excitement. In that discussion Chief Stinglished Judge Gaston used the following language: "The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratified the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. If we transcend the limits or refuse obedience to the conditions therein prescribed we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body." These views were concurred in by Mason, Edwards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss the subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jameson on "constitutional Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Conventions are bound to obey the restrictions imposed by the Legislature in the Act calling the Convention.

AID FROM REPUBLICANS.

In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hitherto submitted to the control of unscrupulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their corruptions as demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Sanborn Contracts," and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superior race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To those who oppose it under the delusion of their leaders, who assured us this bill would never pass Congress, and if it did would be vetoed by the President, though it now has his signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer remain where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The battle for civil liberty is not yet over. "Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We therefore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of many of the ablest representatives in the General Assembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1868, by the people, they themselves were secured and defeated by that same element that has brought ruin upon their party and confusion to the States.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION.

The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every county in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the constitution and efforts to centralize all power in the hands of the Federal Government, they have justly forfeited the confidence and support of the people; they therefore trust not to their own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our defeat by divisions and false leaders. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party of the State, to oppose factious candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conventions. Let your primary county Conventions be duly advertised and see that the people have a full opportunity of attending and expressing their wishes. The contest is important not only in its immediate effects, but in the principles that may be left to inference or construction; our rights, so precise y defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each department of the government should be so restricted, that while it is free to discharge its appropriate duties it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of others.

THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR CONDITION.

That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its admirable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit instrument to be submitted to the people. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, it requires no difficult research into the principles of practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, a thing unknown to the judicial history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its existence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been demanded than in the entire previous history of the State—and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the second and eighth Judicial Districts, contending for the same position, one of which claiming to hold by an appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and whose term is expressed to be only eight years.

In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons accused of criminal offences are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent economy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to restore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY.

It is also hoped that a greater incentive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from depriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective franchise.

The condition of the Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able bodied men, also demands careful and practical attention, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be excluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the present constitution to enumerate the remedies to be offered.

There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsiderate legislation that no new matters be brought forward within —— days of the adjourning.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES.

As to the specific changes that ought to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to select as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesmanship, spotless integrity, representatives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will entitle them their labors to confidence and support—and in their hands they certainly can more safely confide their rights than in the Convention of 1868.

METHODS OF CHANGE.

Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encountered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprehensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encumbered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may impede their labors.

The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated.

The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Personal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are calmly enjoyed by the friends of Constitutional Reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and anticipate scrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a free party, but had their origin in the necessities of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES.

It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen optics of some per-

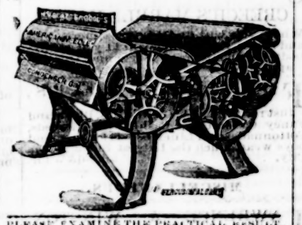
COTTON GINS.

TRIALS OF GINS AT THE WILMINGTON FAIR, Dec. 13th, 1875, between a 40 Circular Needle Gin and a 16-saw Farquhar Gin, each Gin having 100 lbs. seed cotton;

NEEDLE GIN ginned 100 lbs. In 6 minutes,
TAYLOR Saw Gin " 100 lbs. In 9 minutes,
NEEDLE GIN made 36 lbs. Lint,
TAYLOR Saw Gin " 33½ lbs. Lint.

Steam pressure to run Needle Gin was 15 less.



PLEASE EXAMINE THE PRACTICAL RESULT.

The merchantable bale of cotton being an average of four hundred and seventy pounds, for convenience we submit a test on thirteen hundred pounds cotton in seed, as being a near approximate to the merchantable bale in lint.

TEST OF NEEDLE GIN.

Thirteen hundred pounds of seed cotton yielding in proportion to the above test, produces four hundred and sixty-eight pounds of lint and calculating the price per pound at fourteen cents, (as an average rate obtained for the season's crop), the net value of the production would be $65 52. The time consumed in ginning would be seventy-eight minutes to the bale.

TEST OF TAYLOR SAW GIN.

Thirteen hundred pounds of seed cotton yielding in above proportion, would produce four hundred and thirty-two pounds lint (or some thirty-six lbs. lint per bale less than the Needle Gin), which at fourteen cents would net $60 48—or a loss of $5 04 per bale as compared with the Needle Gin. This would require the ginning of only fifty-three bales TO PAY FOR YOUR GIN, as the amount saved would buy you a Forty Circle Gin.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The English Parliament, Protest of Plimsoll.

LONDON, July 23.—A protest, placed by Mr. Plimsoll on the table of the House of Commons last night, is published. In it Plimsoll says, "I protest in the name of God against the delay of the shiping bill although the bill itself is an atrocious shame. There is enough humanity and knowledge in the House to change it into a good measure." He denounces the present laws against as breach of contract which leaves sailors who have unknowingly agreed to sail in unseaworthy ships, the alternative of the jail or death, and continues; charge the Government with willingly and unwillingly playing into the hands of the maritime murderers inside and outside of the House to secure the continuance of the present murderous system. I desire to unmask the villians who sit in this House, fit representatives of more numerous but not greater villians outside. I demand that the bill be proceeded with; failing in this, I lay upon the heads of the Premier and his colleagues the blood of all who perish next winter from preventible causes and denounce against him and them the wrath of God."

President McCosh in London.

LONDON, July 23.—The Rev. D. McCosh, President of Princeton College, presided over the Presbyterian Council. He made a speech in which he eloquently traced the progress of the idea in favor of a reunion. He described the original suggestion at Philadelphia in regard to it and the cordial reception of the scheme in America, which culminated in the success of 1873, when a meeting of the evangelical alliance, such as was only possible in the United States, was held. This led to a conference between distinguished men who declared the accomplishment of scheme one of the desires of their hearts. With regard to the Constitution, he might say that the Council had agreed to take consensus of the Reformed church. The objects of the alliance were settled. The Council would consider the question of general interest of the community, seek the welfare of the weak and oppressed churches, collect and distribute information about the church and entertain all subjects connected with the work of evangelization. Resolutions favoring the alliance were unanimously passed.

Sinking of Steamship Abbottsford—Rescue of William and Alexander Collie.

LONDON, July 23.—The steamship Abbottsford which went ashore in Caernarvon Bay, heeled over at one o'clock this morning and her stern sunk in seven fathoms of water. The vessel is a complete wreck.

Rapid Rise in Wheat, and Failures.

CHICAGO, July 23.—The rapid rise of wheat in the past few days resulted in much excitement among commission dealers and a few failures of minor importance have been reported to-day. Baldwin & Stone who does an extensive commission business both here and in Milwaukee have suspended. Members of the firm state that the suspension is only temporary and due entirely to the failure of country dealers on the board to meet their liabilities.

Post Office Contracts—A Crazy Indian—Indian Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Postmaster General has advertised routes 30,093 between New Orleans and Vicksburg and 30,094 between St. Franersville and Vicksburg. The bids will close Sept. 2 and be opened Sept. 4. The contracts run from Oct. 1st 1875 to June 30th 1878.

Information has been received at the Indian Bureau from Fort Marion Fla., that Lean Bear, one of the Cheyenne prisoners confined at that fort, has become insane, and application has been made to have him sent to the Government Insane Asylum near this city. This is the same Indian who attempted suicide on the route to Florida under the recent order to send the families of these prisoners to them. Directions have been given that one wife to each prisoner and the children under twelve years of age be forwarded.

Crop Reports.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The returns of the Department of Agriculture for July 1 show the condition of spring and winter wheat together at about 82 per cent. average. The winter wheat, including California, averages 74 and spring wheat 96. The spring wheat States in the northeast and northwest are generally in high condition. Of the winter wheat area the South Atlantic and Gulf States are generally above the average, but in the middle States the condition is very low, New York ranging down to 45; west of the Alleghanies the prospect is better, the State averages being between 71 in Ohio and 95 in Iowa. California reports winter wheat at 76 and spring wheat at 50.

THREE CITIES AS ONE.—According to the census taken the city of New York has a population of 1,200,000. There are supposed to be five hundred thousand inhabitants of Brooklyn, and two hundred thousand of Jersey City, which are practically part of New York. This gives an actual population of nearly two millions, bringing New York close alongside of Paris, and second to London. The Brooklyn Eagle is of opinion that the diffidence of New York and Brooklyn stands in the way of their being appreciated by the rest of the world. When cities have reached such dimensions as are claimed for New York and Brooklyn, their newspapers can afford to be sarcastic at their own expense.—Balt. Sun.

OFFICIAL REPORT

The following is the sworn report of sales of Sewing Machines made by the leading Companies for 1874. An examination of the figures below will show that the "Singer" has largely increased its sales, while the other companies have fallen off.

The Singer has shown a large increase in sales every year as the statement below for the last four years will prove.

In 1871 the Singer sold 52,731 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1872 the Singer sold 45,665 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1873 the Singer sold 113 254 more machines than their highest competitor.

In 1874 the Singer sold 148,852 more machines than their highest competitor.

Making the total sum of 875,137 machines which was 360,505 more than their highest competitor. This fact proves the great superiority of the "SINGER" over any other machine. Now the question is, how long will this state of affairs last? How long will the other companies be able to keep offices open in the different cities and towns when they are selling so few machines?

Persons who think of buying or exchanging old ones (of whatever kind) are invited to consult their interest by getting a reliable machine from the old and reliable Singer Manufacturing Company,

This valuable medicine is entirely vegetable, and is the best Blood Purifier and Strength Restorer ever discovered. It acts gently upon the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, giving them tone and vigor, and thereby regulating the secretions of bile, curing Sick Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Back, Sides and Limbs, Cold Chills, Fever, Low Spirits, and all Nervous Complaints.
Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver. Relief is always anxiously sought when the Liver is deranged, for when it is almost invariably sluggish in action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Side, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Coated Tongue, Palpitation of the Heart, Low spirits, or the blues, and a host of other symptoms, for which SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy ever discovered. It acts effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury under any circumstances, and may be taken by children with perfect safety. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine ever offered to the public. It is kept always on hand by druggists in every town in the country. Ask your druggist for it, and take no other. Price $1 per package, or $5 per dozen.

CAUTION!
Buy no Powders or Pills, as they are worthless imitations. See that our Trade Mark, Stamp and Signature are on the wrapper of each package. None other is genuine.
J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia, Pa.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are frequently pain in the side, sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is often mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is generally affected with loss of appetite, sickness, headache, costiveness, sometimes alternating with looseness, accompanied with pain, and in many instances the bowels are painful with bloody discharges. There is generally a feeling of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often a feeling of weariness, dizziness, drowsiness, and low spirits. In many cases of Liver Complaint all of the above symptoms are present, and at other times only a few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
